FOUNTAIN RIPPLES.

Very few waves of interest have touched the shores of Fountain this week and the ripples bring no news. The world of the old saw: "There is nothing new under the sun" can not be applied to Fountain at present, as we have several houses in active completion among which we notice the tasty and comfortable looking residence of F. B. Ross and that gentleman will soon occupy the coolest cottage in Security.

Also the building being erected by the Free Methodist church will be quite an addition to the town, and will give them a nice, comfortable building which will meet the requirements of the community. The house will be dedicated by appropriate services as soon as it is completed.

During the present week the Baptists at this place will hold a meeting commencing on ... from the First Baptist churches of Denver, Colorado Springs, Cripple Creek and Trinidad for the purpose of examining Rev. Hart preparatory to his ordination to the gospel ministry. Appropriate and impressive ordination services will doubtless follow the examination.

The business interests of the city heartily welcome the return of Mr. Chas. Ross, who has purchased the hardware department of the business conducted by his brother. The success of the city depends upon the success of its business, consequently we wish all new ventures an abundant success.

Both of our hotels, "The Brunswick" and "The Mitchell," having been fully refitted since the explosion are now in well ordered and equipped as any one could desire, and are fulfilling the most sanguine expectations of their popular proprietors.

Our school opened on the 10th inst. with an attendance of about 75 per cent of the school population of the district. The increased facilities afforded by the introduction of new and approved appliances should be an incentive to a more efficient and telling work on the part of both teacher and pupil. While the co... of our school ... to previous teachers, and realizes their full worthiness and ability, yet we would be glad to see the standard raised to a high degree of efficiency as is possible to ... under the circumstances. The desired effect can be greatly augmented by the co-operation of the parents in securing a prompt and regular attendance on the part of the pupil.

Points About the Camel.

The length of the chimpanzee's arms is very great, reaching below the knees by the ... extent of the fingers. The legs have a sort of calf, but it differs from that of the human being in that it contains of equal thickness nearly to the heel. The hand differs from that of man in having the thumb much the smaller of the fingers. The chimpanzee walks more frequently erect on his feet than the other species, but stands with the feet much wider apart than man, and goes with the knees much more bent, and it cannot long maintain its erect position. Its food is entirely vegetable. When brought to cold climates it usually dies of consumption.
